Let's Keep Christmas Peter Marshall

This sermon is presented in story form for Children of All Ages with charming illustrations by Barbara Cooney. The Author is one of the most beloved ministers of the last century and reminds us that Christmas means the birth of Jesus Christ--the gift of God with us. Marshall also celebrates the family customs that make the holiday so special.....Reverend Dr. Peter Marshall (27 May 1902 - January 26, 1949), was a Scottish-American preacher, and twice served as Chaplain of the United States Senate. He is remembered most popularly from the biography A Man Called Peter, and the film made from it. Born in Scotland, Marshall heard a strong calling to the ministry at a young age. Despite having no money, he nevertheless immigrated to New York in 1927 when he was 24. He graduated from Columbia Theological Seminary and became the pastor of First Presbyterian Church, a small, rural church in Covington, Georgia. After a brief pastorate, Marshall accepted a call to Atlanta's Westminster Presbyterian Church in 1933. It was in Atlanta that he met his future wife, Catherine Wood, a student at Agnes Scott College whom he married in 1936. Marshall became pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church in Washington, D.C. in 1937 and was appointed twice as U.S. Senate Chaplain, serving from January 4, 1947 until his sudden death just over two years later. He was 46 years old. Marshall's widow Catherine went on to write her husband's biography, A Man Called Peter (1951), which was later made into an Oscar-winning film of the same title featuring Richard Todd as Peter Marshall.
